

What did you want to be when you grew up?

Paleontologist, that's a Dinosaur scientist

What is your fondest memory?

Hmm, so many.

What book would you recommend and why?

Besides the bible, "THE PRACTICE OF THE PRESENCE OF GOD" by Brother Lawrence. It is an amazing book on giving each thought and action you do to God.

What's in your CD player or on your iPod?

I've been listening to the "not-so-new" new Robbie Seay Band album.

What is your favorite movie and why?

I love action and epic like 'star wars' and the Lord of the Rings trilogy, but I would say "family man" and "return to me" are great movies about being content and enjoying life in the moment that you have.

Your favorite indulging snack?

Ice-cream, no contest.

Do you have a hobby you really enjoy?

I have too many hobbies that I enjoy, but Triathlon if you want one.

What was your last purchase?

Orange Juice, cereal, bread.

What is your idea of a perfect day?

If money was no object: Wake up early (and totally rested) have a glass of orange juice, go for a 2 hour bike ride, get to my hope in Jesus at the pier while I wait for my family to have breakfast on a sailboat, then a couple hour ocean sail boat ride together. We then fly to a mountain top restaurant for lunch. We would then hike down the mountain with my family, followed by swimming together in the mountain lake, having really good pizza (anywhere) and putting our kids to bed so my wife can go out to for a late date.

Since it is: laughing with my wife and kids and seeing their joy

Your biggest challenge?

Remembering how much God loves me just as I am.

Besides Jesus, who is your favorite person in the Bible and why?

Peter, because we're so alike (it seems) and Adam because he experienced God when everything was ALL good.

If you could have lunch with a famous person, who would it be and why?

Martin Luther King Jr., how did he preach and lead in tough situations?

What are you passionate about?

Seeing people know Jesus personally.

What do you think makes a good leader?

Passion and compassion, to name two.

What has God been showing you lately that has surprised or delighted you?

His peace in the midst of trouble.

What do you like most about Faith Covenant Church?

That we dare to try new things.
